STILL ANOTHER!

The Chicago Express Wrecked Near Alliance, Ohio, and Several Persons Killed and Injured.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 18.—The Chicago express, east-bound on the Cleveland and Pittsburg, jumped the track at Bayard station, near Alliance, O., at 4 o'clock this morning, wrecking one sleeper. One person was killed and three seriously injured. The Fort Wayne road was obstructed at Alliance by a freight wreck and the train was ordered by way of the Cleveland and Pittsburg road. The rails spread on the sharp curve near Bayard and the Toledo sleeper was derailed and fell on its side. Two Chicago sleepers also jumped the track, but were afterward pulled on and escaped injury.

The casualties are:

O. Warn, colored porter, Pittsburg, crushed to death.

J. L. Maloney, Detroit, badly cut about the face, head and breast, and believed to be fatally injured.

W. H. Denniston, Pittsburg, badly bruised, and will probably recover.

George D. Lawson, Washington, D. C., badly cut about the head, neck and breast, will recover.

W. A. McCoy, Pittsburg, bruised and injured internally, very serious.

The passengers in the other sleepers were badly shaken up, but sustained no serious injuries. The injured were taken to the hotel at Bayard.

AND YET ANOTHER.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Near Naperville, Ill., two Chicago, Burlington and Quincy live stock trains collided in the fog this morning, making a fearful wreck. One engine plowed through three cars loaded with fat steers for Chicago and the huge beasts, almost without exception, were scattered, mangled and bleeding along the track, or pitched down a twenty foot embankment. A hog car on the other train was completely telescoped by the tender and a great number of hogs crushed. One of the engineers, known as Yankee Robinson, was seriously injured, but not fatally.

HON. A. P. EDGERTON.

He Sounds His Views on Civil Service and Leads in Liberal Thoughts and Ideas.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Civil Service Commissioner Edgerton is making the final revisions in his report on the alleged violations of the civil service law in the Chicago postoffice. He said that the reports of the board would probably be made public to-morrow. "I say reports," said the commissioner, "because there will certainly be two, and the probabilities are that there will be three. Mr. Lyman has examined my report, and he does not agree with the conclusion I have drawn. He is preparing a report of his own, which, I am inclined to think, will differ radically from this one of mine. I feel sure, too, that Mr. Oberly will have a report of his own, which, while it may agree with mine in several particulars, will differ from it greatly in several material points." Mr. Edgerton was asked to allow his report to be seen, but he declined to do so, as he said the whole matter will be made public in a day or two, at the furthest.

General Views About the Service.

Washington Special.

Mr. Edgerton, the president of the civil service commission, doesn't intend to get left if he can help it in the scrub race of everybody connected with civil service matters to make the reform ridiculous. "I shall take the opportunity in the report on the investigation of the Chicago postmaster and customs collector," said Commissioner Edgerton to a representative of the Baltimore Sun, "to make known my views concerning these expensive and ridiculous inquiries into matters over which the commission has no control whatever. I do not believe in such investigations, because the commission has no time to be running about the country hearing the evidence of inefficient people who have been dismissed from the government, and hence their desire to wreak vengeance on the unappreciative official who refused to consider their services invaluable. There is no occasion for these investigations. The work of the commission is one continued investigation of a modified and perfectly proper kind. All papers coming before us are carefully examined, and if we discover any flaws, explanations are at once demanded. How absurd is an investigation by a tribunal that cann o punish. We spend government t i m and money in overhauling the acts of an official, and if we discover any evedence of wrong, what can we do? Nothing. I contend the power of commission ends when an appointment is made. The instant a person is taken from our eligible register we have no further authority as to the disposition of such person. The commission is here to procure efficient people for the public service; that being accomplished, we have performed our duty. What becomes of the people who pass through the commission after they receive appointments i none of our business. I shall treat very fully on this subject in the Chicago report."

In the Post Mr. Edgerton is found further airing views:

"It's all stuff and nonsense for Geo. Wm. Curtis to say as he did at the recent meeting of the National Civil-service Reform league, of Newport, that this is not a civil-service reform administration. This is a civil-service reform administration as far as this is a civil-service reform country, and as far as the competitive civil-serval system has been expressed in the legislation of this country, this administration upholds the competitive civil-service system. It is not for President Cleveland nor any of his assistants in the administration of this government to go beyond the laws enacted by congress. * * *

"No doubt more democrats are appointed to the clasified service than republicans. The reason is that more pass the examination, more are candidates. The republican politicians have sent out the word that republican candidates have no chance, and republicans who would otherwise present themselves for examination are thereby kept away. Under the republican regime it was just the other way. The democratic politicians persuaded democratic aspirants for the classified service that it would be useless to compete."

A HUGE PROJECT.

Major C. D. Doxey Proposes to Organize a Company to Supply the State With Natural Gas—Fort Wayne on the List—What it is to Cost.

Major C. T. Doxey, of Anderson, a large owner of gas well property and a man who has given much attention to natural gas matters, has sent out a plan to pipe the state and supply the cities with natural gas. Major Doxey is enterprising and can be recalled as the gentleman who, by proxy, operated a bucket shop in Fort Wayne some years ago.

The major says that from all the wells that have been drilled outside of what is known as the "gas district" not enough gas has been produced to pay 25 per cent. of the money expended; while on the other hand, nine out of ten wells in the gas district are paying producers. These wells are principally in the territory included between the towns of Anderson, Muncie and Kokomo, an area about thirty-five miles square, of about 800,000 acres; of this about 25,000 acres have been leased. From this field the cities of central Indiana must be supplied with gas, and Major Doxey suggests the following plan: A stock company should be formed with an authorized capital of say $3,000,000, in shares of $25 each. As a basis for subscription to the capital stock, in the city of Indianapolis, the subscriber of each $25 share of stock (except manufacturers) to be allowed the free perpetual use of gas, to be supplied through what is known as a No. 5 air mixer, and subscribers to more shares to be allowed the use of as much more in proportion. A No. 5 mixer is sufficient for all ordinary stoves, and two or more of them can be united for larger fires. For manufactories the subscriptions should be based upon one $25 share of stock for each engine horse power used. Lower rates are proposed for smaller cities and towns, where there are fewer consumers, and the capital stock thus derived is to be used in constructing pipe lines, piping the cities and securing the leases and wells. Major Doxey makes detailed calculations as to the cost of furnishing gas by the plan indicated, his estimates being as follows: Indianapolis, $500,000; Tipton, Frankfort and Lafayette line, $365,000, which includes $20,000 for Tipton, $25,000 for Frankfort, $75,000 for Lafayette, $20,000 for leases and wells, and $225,000 for the main pipe line, forty-five miles in length. The estimated cost for a separate line to Logansport is $210,000; for Fort Wayne $270,000. For the New Castle and Richmond line, which is to supply New Castle, Hagerstown, Washington and Richmond, the estimated cost is $375,000. This would make the total cost of the entire plant $1,720,000, exclusive of right of way. The calculation as to the number of stoves to be supplied is as follows: Indianapolis 43,000 which, at $25 (one share for each stove or mixer) would realize $1,075,000. Lafayette line 14,700, at $50 for each, $735,000; Logansport 9,000 at $50 each, $450,000; Fort Wayne 15,000 at $50 each, $750,000; New Castle line, 11,850 at $50 each, $592,500. If every consumer became a subscriber it would give a total capital stock of $3,602,500. The cost of the plant would be $1,720,000, leaving an excess of $1,882,500. These estimates do not include the manufactories, from which a very large amount could be obtained. It is not to be presumed, says Major Doxey, that every consumer would take stock, but fully one half would, and this would be enough, and the rest could be sold gas at reasonable rates. Within a year, he adds, it is reasonable to suppose that pipe lines will be laid to Cincinnati and Chicago, thus taking the gas away from Indiana. He thinks the proposed company can be organized and put to work in a few weeks and that it can get gas in the various places by December 1. He will be glad to consult with people or committees over the matter.

THE VERDICT.

The Section Foreman Held and the Company Exonerated by the Coroner's Jury in the Chatsworth Case.

CHICAGO, Aug, 18.—A special from Chatsworth, Ill., says: "The coroner's jury agreed on a verdict this morning, which holds Timothy Coughlin, the foreman of section seven, to the grand jury, and negatively exonerates the company. The verdict simply says that the failure to patrol the track for six hours before the train came, and the habit of burning grass close to the track is a subject for criticism.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The coroner's jury decide that the B. & O. wreck yesterday was due to the speed of the train. No one is censured.

Postmaster General's Report.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The forthcoming annual report of the first assistant postmaster general's office, says: "The appointments on resignations and commissions expired were 6,863 during the year; on removals and suspensions, 2,584; on changes of names and sites, 482; on deaths of postmasters, 589. The total number of postoffices of all grades in operation July 1, 1887, was 58,157.

Builder's Trade League.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 18.—The Builders' Trade league of Georgia, composing brickmakers, stonemasons, carpenters, tinners and painters do no work with non-union men and do no work in any sub-contract job. Fifty-eight hours a week is the limit, and all firms furnishing building material to contractors who exact more than fifty-eight hours are to be boycotted.

United Labor Convention.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 18.—The United Labor convention assembled at 10:30. The committee on credentials made a report, having been in session all night. In almost all cases they reported in favor of sitting delegates. The socialistic element received but little attention from the committee.

The stranger, whose accidental killing at the south depot was recorded in THE SENTINEL yesterday, is still unidentified. His remains were interred in Lindenwood cemetery this afternoon. Acting Coroner Stellhorn will endeavor to find out who the unfortunate man is. The theory that he suicided is not true, because the fellow made an attempt to board the train and missing the steps he fell under the wheels.

Mr. H. O. Crosby, quartermaster of Sion S. Bass post, G. A. R., telegraphed Commander J. C. Peltier this morning that he would arrive in Fort Wayne from Napoleon, this afternoon. His aged mother died at the city hospital last night, and adds to Mr. Crosby's sorrows. Mr. Peltier will take charge of the books of Sion S. Bass post, but no investigation of the affairs of the command will be made until after the funeral of Mr. Crosby's mother.

A horrible case of brutality is reported from Smiley, sixteen miles from this city, on the Nickel Plate. Ten months ago John Waterside, a Frenchman, married a woman who shortly afterward gave birth to an illegitimate child, of which he was not the father. The fellow had said that he would "be rid of the brat, and that he had almost killed the damned thing and would finish it yet." The township trustee investigated with the aid of two physicians, and found the child with one leg and one arm broken, the latter in two places below the elbow, necessitating immediate amputation. The child has been probably attacked two months since, and has been wholly without medical aid. The leg will also have to be amputated. Waterside was arrested and bound over in the sum of $500 and jailed.

Our idea of the function of an editor is that he should be entirely free to criticise politicians, candidates and office holders of all parties and factions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—It has just been learned that power of attorney was given a few days ago by J. C. THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1887.

THE Pennsylvania republicans have endorsed Mr. Blaine for president.

IT IS expected that Indiana will be represented at the national encampment, G. A. R., by nearly 2,000 soldiers.

THE Toledo Bee remarks: "Civil Service Commissioner Edgerton is sound and thoroughly democratic when he says 'that the power to appoint necessarily carries with it the power to remove.' Turn all the rascals out."

SOME of the Fort Wayne newspapers are never satisfied unless they are engaged in the queer task of berating the city and county governments. This is a peculiar way they have of booming the city and impressing strangers with its importance.

WATER WORKS TRUSTEE HEDEKIN has established beyond question his reputation as an original humorist. He now assures an anxious public that the city has an abundant and perpetual water supply in the Spy Run well. Only a few weeks ago he had Mayor Muhler and a council committee out begging a water supply from Mr. J. H. Bass because of the failure of the source he now eulogizes.

THE attention of the people of Indiana is directed by the governor, in a proclamation, to the centennial celebration of the framing and promulgation of the federal constitution, to be held at Philadelphia on the 15th, 16th and 17th of September. No appropriation was made by the general assembly for Indiana's representative, and therefore the matter is dependent upon private enterprise and patriotism. Hon. Charles H. Reeve, of Plymouth, is the commissioner for Indiana, and will give any desired information in regard to the celebration.

A 10-YEAR-OLD boy at Gr[illegible]wood, Ark., became enraged with his mother, went at sunset to a grove near by, climbed a tree, and declared he would roost there all night. His mother tried in vain for an hour to persuade the kid to come down. Then she threatened to cut the tree down, and finally sent for the Town Marshal, who climbed the tree, placed a rope about the youngster's body, and lowered him to the ground. So great was his yearning to play raccoon and sleep in the tree-top that he had to be kept securely fastened in the house all night.

ALL the babies born at South Haven, Mich., recently have been girls, and Capt. Stewart, of the Sentinel, became alarmed for the future welfare of the country, and offered the Sentinel free for four months to the first man able to father a boy. E. W. Clark, mail agent on the Kalamazoo and South Haven Railroad, was the man that knocked off the persimmon. His boy weighs nine and a half pounds, and Clark thinks he is a greater man than Brigham Young.

LORD TENNYSON is not gifted with a memory of faces. He was entertained one day at dinner by a Mr. Oscar Browning, a wealthy gentleman well known in London society. A few days after Mr. Browning met Lord Tennyson at a reception and saluted him cordially, but the poet looked at him vaguely and did not recognize him. "Do you not remember, Lord Tennyson? I am Browning," said his quondam host. "Oh, no, you are not," answered Tennyson placidly. "I know Robert Browning intimately, and you can not persuade me that you are he."

IT is in the number of his toilets and their scrupulous care that Berry Wall, the king of the New York dudes, earns his reputation, says a New York letter-writer. Berry is not eye-glassed, he doesn't carry a knobby stick, and his collars are not exaggerated. But he does change his clothes every two or three hours. One morning he ate his breakfast in a sack-coat and trousers of green, black and white checks, a shirt of pink, a straight-brimmed straw hat. About the middle of the forenoon he came out in white flannel, with white canvas shoes and a white cap. Just after noon he bathed in a gray tight suit. Next he dressed for the races in a long frock coat and trousers of light brown, a high hat to exactly match in color, and even the leather strap from which his field glasses hung across his shoulder was of precisely the same hue. On his return he went to dinner in a costume of blue stripes, with a coral shirt. These shirts are his pride. He has dozens of them without a repetition. The collars and cuffs worn with them, however, are invariably white. He wound up the night in a black frock coat, pearl trousers, black silk hat, and white vest.

The Most Agreeable.
As well as the most effective method of dispelling Headaches, Colds and Fevers, or cleansing the system, is by taking a few doses of the pleasant California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. 50c. and $1 bottles for sale by Thieme & Gross.

FRANK HENRY.

Tender Tributes to His Memory From Rev. Father Oechtering and the Baptist Choral Choir.

We find in the Avilla News, and take special pleasure in reprinting the following testimonials from this city, to the character of Frank Henry, the young man who lost his life by falling from the new St. Mary's church steeple:

FORT WAYNE, Aug. 8.

Mr. G. S. Henry, Dear Sir:—Allow me to express my deepest sympathy with the sad loss which your esteemed family has sustained. Frank was one of our favorites and loved by all who worked on the church. He was always cheerful, dilligent and attentive to his duties. I never heard one unbecoming word from him. I often spoke with him and found him upright, polite and pleasing. I can hardly express the deep sorrow I felt when I saw him lying before me. Whatever we could do to relieve him we have endeavored to do. He frequently called for his dear parents and brothers and sisters. I told him that I had telegraphed and sent for all. He invoked the mercy of God and our blessed Redeemer Jesus Christ with great fervor. I doubt not that he has found that infinite mercy which he invoked so fervently. The memory of this good youth, called away in so sudden and sad manner, will never fade from my mind. May God in his goodness give consolation and peace to your hearts in this deep affliction, that you may bear it with that patience and submission to the inscrutable will of God, with which the blessed Mother of our Saviour stood under the cross of her son. May it console you to know that your good boy, when called away in the prime of his life and so suddenly, went to his God with the words of faith in his Redeemer on his lips, with words of love and filial affection for his dear father and mother, and with the deepest sympathy of us all, who worked with him and learned to know him. I shall pray to God that he may console and strengthen your hearts in this great sorrow. I have the honor to remain,

Most Respectfully Yours,
J. H. OECHTERING,
Rector St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The following is from the club of which Frank was a member:

FORT WAYNE, August 7, 1887.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry and Family. Dear Friends:—In behalf of the Baptist Choral Club I take this means to extend to you the heartful sympathy of its members in your sad bereavement. We sincerely condole with you for the loss sustained. We are extremely sorry that the Club could not be represented at the funeral and that the floral tribute could not reach you in time for the funeral, there being no trains on Sunday. I mail to you copies of the papers with the resolutions passed at our club meeting Saturday evening. Trusting that you will receive comfort and strength from on high I remain.

Respectfully Yours,
JNO. L. CURRIER,
Secy. Baptist Choral Club.

That's So

Relief is certain for the despondent feelings of the dyspeptic, the constipated habit of the sedentary, the headaches of the nervous and bilious, by the simple use of Simmons Liver Regulator,—easy to take, not nauseating or disgusting, not more bitter than a glass of beer and far more grateful. It is no intoxicating beverage, but it tones up the system, settles the stomach, assists digestion, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the Liver. Take it once and and you will discard all other medicines.

"I have used many remedies for Dyspepsia, Liver Affection and Debility, but never have found anything to benefit me to the extent that Simmons Liver Regulator has. I would advise all who are similarly affected to give it a trial as it seems the only thing that never fails to relieve."—P. M. JANNEY, Minneapolis, Minn.

The certainty with which this remedy acts has astonished the Medical Profession and secured for itself unbounded praise. Its virtues consist in being so gentle a cathartic, tonic and alterative, that in its operation it does not interrupt the usual duties of life, but acts so naturally that the system is not upset or afterwards constipated. It attacks all bilious disorders and sluggishness of the Liver; is harmless, and can be taken at any time without fear of injury.

"I have been a user of Simmons Liver Regulator for years, having made it my only family medicine. It is a sure, good and reliable medicine. My mother before me was very partial to it."—Rev. JAS. N. ROLLISS, Pastor M. E. Church, Fairfield, Va.

$500 REWARD

is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache. Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 2902 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Runyan P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."

Acupuncture.

Shampooing, acupuncture, or piercing of the body with needles, and the burning of moxas on the skin have from the earliest times formed the staple of Japanese surgical skill. The blind and dumb have always been educated in the first two, and have acquired extraordinary skill as shampooers in many muscular or intestinal complaints. They are allowed to combine music and money-lending with their main calling, and go about toward evening with a low whistle for a street cry. The best of these shampooers know all the superficial muscles, and their services are called in for headache, hysteria, and paralysis. Degrees, too, were conferred on them, with ceremonial robes and white wands surmounted by wooden balls. The medical school, established A. D. 669, had a professor of shampooing with ten pupils, and another of acupuncture with twenty. In 820 five acupuncturists were attached to the imperial palace, being paid by the month, and obliged to keep up their knowledge of their own subject as well as of the pulse, surgery, botany, and prescribing by studying particular books. Acupuncture is not an invention of the Japanese, the first treatise upon it being attributed to a Chinese under the Sung dynasty, although the form of the needles used and the mode of their employment have been much improved upon by them; tubular needles, for instance, were invented in 1688. It should not be forgotten that Asciepiades, in the first century of our era, recommended needle-puncture for dropsy. The operation consists in driving fine gold, silver, or steel needles from one-half to three-quarters of an inch into the flesh. The needles are of various forms and have spirally-grooved handles for the better twirling of the instrument. The operator holds a needle lightly with the left hand, resting the point upon the skin of the patient. He then inserts it by a slight tap on the handle, given with a small wooden mallet held in the right hand. The needle is then gently pushed and twirled until it penetrates to the proper depth, and after a few seconds is slowly drawn in the same manner, the skin about the puncture being subsequently chafed for a few moments. The number of perforations made at one time varies from one to twenty, and they are oftenest made in the abdomen, to which, however, they are not confined; special treatises laying down the spots to be pierced in various diseases, and one division of study distinguishing on the back the so-called hollow spots (more than a hundred in number)—"where the end of the nerve-fibers are found"—for the application of the needle or the moxa. A faint effort was made to introduce the Japanese needles into England and France in 1825, but although combined with electricity, it came to nothing.—Westminster Review.

A Turtle in the Sea.

Some years ago when doing a walking tour in England with a friend we left the pretty little seaside resort of D——, in Devonshire, for T——, five miles distant, also situated by the sea. As we were about leaving D——, I asked the hotel proprietor, on bidding him adieu, if he could recommend us to a nice hotel at our next halting place. He named the "King's Arms," said we should find the host a jolly fellow, and, above all, he was the only man in that part of the country who could give us a basin of real turtle soup, and cheap, too. We could scarcely believe it, and the few miles flew by in joyful anticipation of our first course. Arrived at the "King's Arms" we sought "mine host," apparently a very genial soul, but to our intense surprise on mentioning turtle soup he flew into a towering rage, said we could see his bill of fare, and if that didn't suit us we could leave it. We should have thought him quite insulting and turned our backs upon him, but were curious to know what angered him. We stayed, had a very good dinner, minus the soup, but saw no more of the proprietor during our short sojourn. Of the waiter, however, we inquired about the turtle soup and his abruptness to us. He smiled and said:

"Well, I'll tell 'e, gentlemen. Some time ago there was a large dinner comin' off here and master bought a fine turtle in London (which cost him £5) about a week before the dinner, and boasted to everybody that he was goin' to 'surprise the natives.' Well, a day or so before the feast a gentleman told master the turtle would enjoy a sea bath, which would improve him for the soup, so master took him down to the beach, tied a rope on his leg, and sat down to watch his prize. Then," said our informant, "the old beggar (master) dropped off to sleep, let go the rope, and so the turtle went off to sea and so boss has been teased to death about it."—Detroit Free Press.

Sleeplessness.

Narcotics and sedatives murder sleep; the unnatural stupor is soon followed by ill effects. Simmons Liver Regulator removes the cause of restlessness and sleeplessness by regulating the bowels, by establishing good digestion and by quieting the nerves.

"I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia and loss of sleep. As soon as I feel the least nervous I take a dose of Limmons Liver Regulator, and sleep all night."

MRS. R. BRYANT, Griswoldsville, Ga.

Torture in Olden Times.

There were three principal kinds of torture inflicted by the inquisition—the rope, the trough, and water and fire—writes John Burnley. In the first the hands of the accused were tied behind his back, and then a rope was fastened to the wrists, and by this rope and a pulley he was raised into the air to a considerable height, and after being held suspended for a time he was suddenly let fall to within about a foot and a half of the ground, the sudden stop giving him a jolt that dislocated his joints and caused him to utter the most piercing cries of anguish. And this was repeated as often as the doctor of the inquisition said the man could stand it.

To intensify the horrors of the sufferings the torture was inflicted in a lurid subterranean vault in the presence of persons completely masked in black. If the victim would not yield to the rope the water torture was tried. A large piece of timber, hollowed out like a trough, had a sharp iron bar across it. The prisoner was placed in the trough, with this bar under his back, and his head and feet were fastened down by cords to the ends of the trough. The presence of the bar and the tightness of the cords caused the person to experience inexpressible agony. But this was not all. They stopped up his nostrils, and, placing a piece of linen cloth over his mouth, which he was obliged to keep open, they poured a stream of water upon it from a considerable height.

This forced the cloth deep into the throat of the sufferer and cut off his breath. When he was nearly dead his torturers rested from their inhuman work for some time to give him a chance to revive, and then went at him again, renewing the dose every time the doctor said he could stand it. The torture by fire was the most horrible. A fierce fire was built, and the prisoner's feet, anointed with lard and other penetrating substances, were held close to the flames. The pain was frightful. It often drove prisoners to confessions that were simply lies, and after the confession came the auto-da-fe, dozens of victims being led to the funeral pyres and burned in the presence of a holiday throng. The inquisition ceased to exist in France in 1789, in Germany in 1754, in Austria in 1776, and in Sweden in 1786. In 1782 forty-eight gypsies were put to the rack in Hungary on an unfounded charge of cannibalism. — New York Telegram.

Hay Fever.

I have suffered greatly from periodical returns of hay fever. At the suggestion of Covert & Cheever, druggists, I obtained Ely's Cream Balm, and used a portion of it during a severe attack. I can cheerfully testify as to the immediate and cantinued relief obtained by its use. I heartily recommend it to those suffering from this or kindred complaints.—(Rev.) H. A. Smith, Clinton, Wis.

The great Wabash excursion to Niagara Falls passed through this city last evening in four sections. There was a big party of tourists on board the trains and the utmost precaution was taken for their safety. Every switch was ordered locked in advance of the line of trains and section foremen on the line had orders to station their men at intervals of one mile each to patrol the track between the several trains to see that everything was safe.

Alex Heron, secretary of the state board of agriculture, thinks the outlook for the coming corn crop is not so discouraging as many fear. He thinks also that plenty of potatoes will be raised to supply the demand. He says further that he has observed that the year following a very dry summer is always marked by heavy crops, and cites the season of 1882 following the great drought of 1881 as an illustration. Anyhow, a short crop will bring big prices to the farmers.

Captain Thompson and wife, who will be remembered as having been in command of the first Salvation Army that visited this city, have been in Terre Haute for some time past and seem to have been remarkably successful in their work there. They gave their farewell services there last night and as a token of their regard the friends of Captain Thompson presented him with an elegant Knights of Pythias watch charm, of which order he is a member, while to Mrs. Thompson a gold watch was given.

A few days ago the locomotive engineer and firemen of the Wabash railway requested Receiver McNulta to grant a conference to a committee they had appointed with a view of bringing about a readjustment of schedules of wages and rules, which were considered unsatisfactory. The request was readily granted by General McNulta. The officers of the road, after a two days' conference with the men at the general office in Chicago, succeeded in making an arrangement that is alike satisfactory to the men and the company, thereby averting a strike.

The Huntington News, which all along has been condemning the Little River ditch, has this item: "Branch No. 1, of the Little River ditch, has been discovered to be much shallower than specifications, and is ordered deeper. Some persons who had been assessed concluded to hire an engineer to go over the work, and although the contract was said to be complete, and that part accepted, this investigation brought out the fact that the ditch was not complete, and resulted in further excavation. The whole scheme will have to be watched very closely. This branch No. 1 is in Allen county."

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Mr. J. A. Johnson, the clerk at the Harmon house, was married to Miss Sophia W. Ehlerding, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. F. W. E. Bicknese, on Williams street. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only a few invited friends and the happy pair will leave this evening for Decatur and from thence to Chicago, which city will be their future home.

Some weeks ago THE SENTINEL noted that in the absence of Conductor Ben Stonecifer and family their home, at No. 13 Marion street, was robbed of pretty nearly every movable article in it. In the stable of Widow Coleman, a neighbor, most of the missing property was discovered yesterday. The find included a pair of bracelets, a watch and about everything taken save $1.50 in gold. It is suspected that boys committed the theft and hid their booty in Mrs. Coleman's hay mow. A singular co-incidence is that her sons are missing.

There was a lively scene at the Wabash depot last night, when the Niagara Falls excursions went through the city. The depot was thronged with people who flocked to see the excursionists tarry here for their suppers. The big party went through in three trains, at intervals of a half an hour apart. The train numbered thirty cars in all. Ninety-seven excursionists boarded the train at this city and the entire party numbered 2,500 very genteel looking people. It was almost 11 o'clock before the last train passed through and many lingered at the depot to see the last of the merry tourists. STILL ANOTHER!

The Chicago Express Wrecked Near Alliance, Ohio, and Several Persons Killed and Injured.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 18.—The Chicago express, east-bound on the Cleveland and Pittsburg, jumped the track at Bayard station, near Alliance, O., at 4 o'clock this morning, wrecking one sleeper. One person was killed and three seriously injured. The Fort Wayne road was obstructed at Alliance by a freight wreck and the train was ordered by way of the Cleveland and Pittsburg road. The rails spread on the sharp curve near Bayard and the Toledo sleeper was derailed and fell on its side. Two Chicago sleepers also jumped the track, but were afterward pulled on and escaped injury.

The casualties are:

O. Warn, colored porter, Pittsburg, crushed to death.

J. L. Maloney, Detroit, badly cut about the face, head and breast, and believed to be fatally injured.

W. H. Denniston, Pittsburg, badly bruised, and will probably recover.

George D. Lawson, Washington, D. C., badly cut about the head, neck and breast, will recover.

W. A McCoy, Pittsburg, bruised and injured internally, very serious.

The passengers in the other sleepers were badly shaken up, but sustained no serious injuries. The injured were taken to the hotel at Bayard.

AND YET ANOTHER.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18. Near Naperville, Ill., two Chicago, Burlington and Quincy live stock trains collided in the fog this morning, making a fearful wreck. One engine plowed through three cars loaded with fat steers for Chicago and the huge beasts, almost without exception, were scattered, mangled and bleeding along the track, or pitched down a twenty foot embankment. A hog car on the other train was completely telescoped by the tender and a great number of hogs crushed. One of the engineers, known as Yankee Robinson, was seriously injured, but not fatally.

HON. A. P. EDGERTON.

He Sounds His Views on Civil Service and Leads in Liberal Thoughts and Ideas.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Civil Service Commissioner Edgerton is making the final revisions in his report on the alleged violations of the civil service law in the Chicago postoffice. He said that the reports of the board would probably be made public to-morrow. "I say reports," said the commissioner, "because there will certainly be two, and the probabilities are that there will be three, Mr. Lyman has examined my report, and he does not agree with the conclusion I have drawn. He is preparing a report of his own, which, I am inclined to think, will differ radically from this one of mine. I feel sure, too, that Mr. Oberly will have a report of his own, which, while it may agree with mine in several particulars, will differ from it greatly in several material points." Mr. Edgerton was asked to allow his report to be seen, but he declined to do so, as he said the whole matter will be made public in a day or two, at the furthest.

General Views About the Service.

Washington Special

Mr. Edgerton, the president of the civil service commission, doesn't intend to get left if he can help it in the scrub race of everybody connected with civil service matters to make the reform ridiculous. "I shall take the opportunity in the report on the investigation of the Chicago postmaster and customs collector," said Commissioner Edgerton to a representative of the Baltimore News, "to make known my views concerning these expensive and ridiculous inquiries into matters over which the commission has no control whatever. I do not believe in such investigations, because the commission has no time to be running about the country hearing the evidence of inefficient people who have been dismissed from the government, and hence their desire to wreak vengeance on the unappreciative official who refused to consider their services invaluable. There is no occasion for these investigations. The work of the commission is one continued investigation of a modified and perfectly proper kind. All papers coming before us are carefully examined, and if we discover any flaws, explanations are at once demanded. How absurd is an investigation by a tribunal that can do nothing to punish. We spend government time and money in overhauling the acts of an official, and if we discover any evidence of wrong, what can we do? Nothing. I contend the power of commission ends when an appointment is made. The instant a person is taken from our eligible register we have no further authority as to the disposition of such person. The commission is here to procure efficient people for the public service, that being accomplished, we have performed our duty. What becomes of the people who pass through the commission after they receive appointments is none of our business. I shall treat very fully on this subject in the Chicago report."

In the Post Mr. Edgerton is found further airing views:

"It's all stuff and nonsense for Geo. Wm. Curtis to say as he did at the recent meeting of the National Civil-service Reform league, of Newport, that this is not a civil-service reform administration. This is a civil-service reform administration as far as this is a civil-service reform country, and as far as the competitive civil-serval system has been expressed in the legislation of this country, this administration upholds the competitive civil-service system. It is not for President Cleveland nor any of his assistants in the administration of this government to go beyond the laws enacted by congress. * * *

"No doubt more democrats are appointed to the classified service than republicans. The reason is that more pass the examination, more are candidates. The republican politicians have sent out the word that republican candidates have no chance, and republicans who would otherwise present themselves for examination are thereby kept away. Under the republican regime it was just the other way. The democratic politicians persuaded democratic applicants for the classified service that it would be useless to compete."

A HUGE PROJECT.

Major C. D. Doxey Proposes to Organize a Company to Supply the State With Natural Gas—Fort Wayne on the List—What it is to Cost.

Major C. T. Doxey, of Anderson, a large owner of gas well property and a man who has given much attention to natural gas matters, has sent out a plan to pipe the state and supply the cities with natural gas. Major Doxey is enterprising and can be recalled as the gentleman who, by proxy, operated a basket shop in Fort Wayne some years ago.

The major says that from all the wells that have been drilled outside of what is known as the "gas district" not enough gas has been produced to pay 2½ per cent. of the money expended, while on the other hand, nine out of ten wells in the gas district are paying producers. These wells are principally in the territory included between the towns of Anderson, Muncie and Kokomo, an area about thirty five miles square, of about 800,000 acres; of this about 25,000 acres have been leased. From this field the cities of central Indiana must be supplied with gas, and Major Doxey suggests the following plan: A stock company should be formed with an authorized capital of say $3,000,000, in shares of $25 each. As a basis for subscription to the capital stock, in the city of Indianapolis, the subscriber of each $25 share of stock (except manufacturers) to be allowed the free perpetual use of gas, to be supplied through what is known as a No. 5 air meter, and subscribers to more shares to be allowed the use of as much more in proportion. A No. 5 meter is sufficient for all ordinary stoves, and two or more of them can be obtied for larger fires. For manufacturies the subscription can should be based upon one $25 share of stock for each engine horse power used. Lower rates are proposed for smaller cities and towns, where there are fewer consumers, and the capital stock thus derived is to be used in constructing pipe lines, piping the cities and securing the leases and wells. Major Doxey makes detailed calculations as to the cost of furnishing gas by the plan indicated, his estimates being as follows: Indianapolis, $600,000; Tipton, Frankfort and Lafayette line, $365,000, which includes $20,000 for Tipton, $25,000 for Frankfort, $75,000 for Lafayette, $20,000 for leases and wells, and $225,000 for the main pipe line, forty-five miles in length. The estimated cost for a separate line to Logansport is $210,000; for Fort Wayne $270,000. For the New Castle and Richmond line, which is to supply New Castle, Hagerstown, Washington and Richmond, the estimated cost is $375,000. This would make the total cost of the entire plant $1,720,000, exclusive of right of way. The calculation as to the number of stoves to be supplied is as follows: Indianapolis 43,000 which, at $25 cons share for each stove or meter would realize $1,075,000. Lafayette line 14,700, at $50 for each, $735,000. Logansport 9,000 at $50 each, $450,000; Fort Wayne 15,000 at $50 each, $750,000; New Castle line, 11,950 at $50 each, $597,500. If every consumer became a subscriber it would give a total capital stock of $3,602,500. The cost of the plant would be $1,720,000, leaving an excess of $1,882,500. These estimates do not include the manufactories, from which a very large amount could be obtained. It is not to be presumed, says Major Doxey, that every consumer would take stock, but fully one half would, and this would be enough, and the rest could be sold gas at remunerable rates. Within a year, he adds, it is reasonable to suppose that pipe lines will be laid to Chicago and Chicago, thus taking the gas away from Indiana. He thinks the proposed company can be organized and put to work in a few weeks and that it can get gas in the various places by December 1. He will be glad to consult with people or committees over the matter.

THE VERDICT.

The Section Foreman Held and the Company Exonerated by the Coroner's Jury in the Chatsworth Case.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—A special from Chatsworth, Ill., says: "The coroner's jury agreed on a verdict this morning, which holds Timothy Coughlin, the foreman of section seven, to the grand jury, and negatively exonerates the company. The verdict simply says that the failure to patrol the track for six hours before the train came, and the habit of burning grass close to the track is a subject for criticism.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The coroner's jury decide that the R. & O. wreck yesterday was due to the speed of the train. No one is censured.

Postmaster General's Report.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The forthcoming annual report of the first assistant postmaster general's office, says: "The appointments on resignations and commissions expired were 6,863 during the year; on removals and suspensions, 2,584; on changes of names and sites, 482; on deaths of postmasters, 549. The total number of postoffices of all grades in operation July 1, 1887, was 58,157.

The stranger, whose accidental killing at the south depot was recorded in THE SENTINEL yesterday, is still unidentified. His remains were interred in Lindenwood cemetery this afternoon. Acting Coroner Stellhorn will endeavor to find out who the unfortunate man is. The theory that he suicided is not true, because the fellow made an attempt to board the train and missing the steps he fell under the wheels.

Mr. H. O. Crosby, quartermaster of Sion S. Bass post, G. A. R., telegraphed Commander J. C. Peltier this morning that he would arrive in Fort Wayne from Napoleon, this afternoon. Bass post, but no investigation of the affairs of the ex-quartermaster will be made until after the funeral of Mr. Crosby's mother.

A horrible case of brutality is reported from Smiley, sixteen miles from this city, on the Nickel Plate. Ten months ago John Waterside, a Frenchman, married a woman who shortly afterward gave birth to an illegitimate child, of which he was not the father. The fellow had said that he would "be rid of the brat, and that he had almost killed the damned thing and would finish it yet." The township trustee investigated with the aid of two physicians, and found the child with one leg and one arm broken, the latter in two places below the elbow, necessitating immediate amputation. The child has been probably attacked two months since, and has been wholly without medical aid. The leg will also have to be amputated. Waterside was arrested and bound over in the sum of $500 and jailed.

Our idea of the function of an editor is that he should be entirely free to criticise politicians, candidates and office holders of all parties and factions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—It has just been learned that power of attorney was given a few days ago by J. C. THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1887.

The Pennsylvania republicans have endorsed Mr. Blaine for president.

It is expected that Indiana will be represented at the national encampment, G. A. R., by nearly 2,000 soldiers.

The Toledo Bee remarks: "Civil Service Commissioner Edgerton is sound and thoroughly democratic when he says 'that the power to appoint necessarily carries with it the power to remove.' Turn all the rascals out."

Some of the Fort Wayne newspapers are never satisfied unless they are engaged in the queer task of berating the city and county governments. This is a peculiar way they have of booming the city and impressing strangers with its importance.

Water Works Trustee Hedekin has established beyond question his reputation as an original humorist. He now assures an anxious public that the city has an abundant and perpetual water supply in the Spy Run well. Only a few weeks ago he had Mayor Muhler and a council committee out begging a water supply from Mr. J. H. Bass because of the failure of the source he now eulogizes.

The attention of the people of Indiana is directed by the governor, in a proclamation, to the centennial celebration of the framing and promulgation of the federal constitution, to be held at Philadelphia on the 15th, 16th and 17th of September. No appropriation was made by the general assembly for Indiana's representative, and therefore the matter is dependent upon private enterprise and patriotism. Hon. Charles H. Reeve, of Plymouth, is the commissioner for Indiana, and will give any desired information in regard to the celebration.

A 10-year-old boy at Gramwood, Ark., became enraged with his mother, went at sunset to a grove near by, climbed a tree, and declared he would roost there all night. His mother tried in vain for an hour to persuade the kid to come down. Then she threatened to cut the tree down, and finally sent for the Town Marshal, who climbed the tree, placed a rope about the youngster's body, and lowered him to the ground. So great was his yearning to play raccoon and sleep in the tree-top that he had to be kept securely fastened in the house all night.

All the babies born at South Haven, Mich., recently have been girls, and Capt. Stewart, of the Sentinel, became alarmed for the future welfare of the country, and offered the Sentinel free for four months to the first man able to father a boy. E. W. Clark, mail agent on the Kalamazoo and South Haven Railroad, was the man that knocked off the persimmon. His boy weighs nine and a half pounds, and Clark thinks he is a greater man than Brigham Young.

Lord Tennyson is not gifted with a memory of faces. He was entertained one day at dinner by a Mr. Oscar Browning, a wealthy gentleman well known in London society. A few days after Mr. Browning met Lord Tennyson at a reception and saluted him cordially, but the poet looked at him vaguely and did not recognize him. "Do you not remember, Lord Tennyson? I am Browning," said his quondam host. "Oh, no, you are not," answered Tennyson placidly. "I know Robert Browning intimately, and you can not persuade me that you are he."

It is in the number of his toilets and their scrupulous care that Berry Wall, the king of the New York dudes, earns his reputation, says a New York letter-writer. Berry is not eye-glassed, he doesn't carry a knobby stick, and his collars are not exaggerated. But he does change his clothes every two or three hours. One morning he ate his breakfast in a sack-coat and trousers of green, black and white checks, a shirt of pink, a straight-brimmed straw hat. About the middle of the forenoon he came out in white flannel with white canvas shoes and a white cap. Just after noon he bathed in a gray tight suit. Next he dressed for the races in a long frock coat and trousers of light brown, a high hat to exactly match in color, and even the leather strap from which his field glasses hung across his shoulder was of precisely the same hue. On his return he went to dinner in a costume of blue stripes, with a corn shirt. These shirts are his pride. He has dozens of them without a repetition. The collars and cuffs worn with them, however, are invariably white. He wound up the night in a black frock coat, pearl trousers, black silk hat, and white vest.

The Most Agreeable.

As well as the most effective method of dispelling Headaches, Colds and Fevers, or cleansing the system, is by taking a few doses of the pleasant California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. 50c. and $1 bottles for sale by Thieme & Gross.

FRANK HENRY.

Tender Tributes to His Memory From Rev. Father Oechtering and the Baptist Choral Choir.

We find in the Avilla News, and take special pleasure in reprinting the following testimonials from this city, to the character of Frank Henry, the young man who lost his life by falling from the new St. Mary's church steeple:

FORT WAYNE, Aug. 9.

Mr. G. S. Henry, Dear Sir:—Allow me to express my deepest sympathy with the sad loss which your esteemed family has sustained. Frank was one of our favorites and loved by all who worked on the church. He was always cheerful, dilligent and attentive to his duties. I never heard one unbecoming word from him. I often spoke with him and found him upright, polite and pleasing. I can hardly express the deep sorrow I felt when I saw him lying before me. Whatever we could do to relieve him we have endeavored to do. He frequently called for his dear parents and brothers and sisters. I told him that I had telegraphed and sent for all. He invoked the mercy of God and our blessed Redeemer Jesus Christ with great fervor. I doubt not that he has found that infinite mercy which he invoked so fervently. The memory of this good youth, called away in so sudden and sad manner, will never fade from my mind. May God in his goodness give consolation and peace to your hearts in this deep affliction, that you may bear it with that patience and submission to the inscrutable will of God, with which the blessed Mother of our Saviour stood under the cross of her son. May it console you to know that your good boy, when called away in the prime of his life and so suddenly, went to his God with the words of faith in his Redeemer on his lips, with words of love and filial affection for his dear father and mother, and with the deepest sympathy of us all, who worked with him and learned to know him. I shall pray to God that he may console and strengthen your hearts in this great sorrow. I have the honor to remain,

Most Respectfully Yours,
J. H. OECHTERING,
Rector St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The following is from the club of which Frank was a member:

FORT WAYNE, August 7, 1887.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry and Family. Dear Friends:—In behalf of the Baptist Choral Club I take this means to extend to you the heartful sympathy of its members in your sad bereavement. We sincerely condole with you for the loss sustained. We are extremely sorry that the Club could not be represented at the funeral and that the floral tribute could not reach you in time for the funeral, there being no trains on Sunday. I mail to you copies of the papers with the resolutions passed at our club meeting Saturday evening. Trusting that you will receive comfort and strength from on high I remain,

Respectfully Yours,
JNO. L. OVERMYER,
Secy. Baptist Choral Club.

NEW HAVEN NEWS.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 18.

Miss Ida Castel is visiting friends at Napoleon, O.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Smith went to Cecil Tuesday to attend the wedding of Ida Russell, Mrs. Smith's sister.

Mrs. S. Eveland has been called to South Toledo to attend her grandson's funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. John Briemyer are visiting relatives at Monroe, Mich.

O. E. Palmer, night clerk of the Nickel Plate office, has returned and resumed work.

John Bickel is the happiest man in town. He is father again and its a big baby girl.

Mrs. Wm. Stacks left for Medina, N. Y., via the Wabash, Wednesday evening, to visit relatives.

It is rumored that number one, of the "only twelve," is to be married in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Dowling returned home Wednesday evening from Sidney, Ohio, where they have been attending the funeral of James Stoddard, who was killed at Ires' crossing, on the Nickel Plate, Monday.

Quite a number of our sports who intended witnessing the game of base ball at Fort Wayne Wednesday, Detroits vs. Mets., were disappointed on account of rain.

H. F. Schnelker did not go with the fishing party from Fort Wayne to Fish lake. Unpleasant weather prevented.

F. C. Crawford, formerly operator at the Wabash office, made friends a short visit Monday, before leaving for Homer, Ill., where he takes charge of a telegraph office.

Our people were promised a good entertainment Thursday last by a show on the Nickel Plate depot grounds, given by a party who proved themselves to be a gang of barnstormers. Quite a number paid their money to see a good entertainment and were deceived.

Two of Fort Wayne's prominent business men were in the village Tuesday, and after tying their horse at the east end brewery, commenced taking in the town. After a long wait the horse became tired and laid down, breaking shafts and harness. Through the efforts of friends, a conveyance was obtained, and the party propelled out of town. Ah there Johns.

That's So

Relief is certain for the despondent feelings of the dyspeptic, the constipated habit of the sedentary, the headaches of the nervous and bilious, by the simple use of Simmons Liver Regulator,—easy to take, not nauseating or disgusting, not more bitter than a glass of beer and far more grateful. It is no intoxicating beverage, but it tones up the system, settles the stomach, assists digestion, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the Liver. Take it once and and you will discard all other medicines.

"I have used many remedies for Dyspepsia, Liver Affection and Debility, but never have found anything to benefit me to the extent that Simmons Liver Regulator has. I would advise all who are similarly affected to give it a trial as it seems the only thing that never fails to relieve." P. M. JANNEY, Minneapolis, Minn.

The certainty with which this remedy acts has astonished the Medical Profession and secured for itself unbounded praise. Its virtues consist in being so gentle a cathartic, tonic and alterative, that in its operation it does not interrupt the usual duties of life, but acts so naturally that the system is not upset or afterwards constipated. It attacks all bilious disorders and sluggishness of the Liver; is harmless, and can be taken at any time with out fear of injury.

"I have been a user of Simmons Liver Regulator for years, having made it my only family medicine. It is a sure, good and reliable medicine. My mother before me was very partial to it." Rev. Jas. M. Rollins, Pastor M. E. Church, Fairfield, Va.

$500 REWARD

is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians. By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache. Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 2902 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Runyan P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."

Acupuncture.

Shampooing, acupuncture, or piercing of the body with needles, and the burning of moxas on the skin have from the earliest times formed the staple of Japanese surgical skill. The blind and dumb have always been educated in the first two, and have acquired extraordinary skill as shampooers in many muscular or intestinal complaints. They are allowed to combine music and money-lending with their main calling, and go about toward evening with a low whistle for a street cry. The best of these shampooers know all the superficial muscles, and their services are called in for headache, hysteria, and paralysis. Degrees, too, were conferred on them, with ceremonial robes and white wands surmounted by wooden balls. The medical school, established A. D. 6??, had a professor of shampooing with ten pupils, and another of acupuncture with twenty. In 820 five acupuncturists were attached to the imperial palace, being paid by the month, and obliged to keep up their knowledge of their own subject as well as of the pulse, surgery, botany, and prescribing by studying particular books. Acupuncture is not an invention of the Japanese, the first treatise upon it being attributed to a Chinese under the Sung dynasty, although the form of the needles used and the mode of their employment have been much improved upon by them: tubular needles, for instance, were invented in 1685. It should not be forgotten that Asclepiades, in the first century of our era, recommended needle-puncture for dropsy. The operation consists in driving fine gold, silver, or steel needles from one-half to three-quarters of an inch into the flesh. The needles are of various forms and have spirally-grooved handles for the better twirling of the instrument. The operator holds a needle lightly with the left hand, resting the point upon the skin of the patient. He then inserts it by a slight tap on the handle, given with a small wooden mallet held in the right hand. The needle is then gently pushed and twirled until it penetrates to the proper depth, and after a few seconds is slowly drawn in the same manner, the skin about the puncture being subsequently chafed for a few moments. The number of perforations made at one time varies from one to twenty, and they are oftenest made in the abdomen, to which, however, they are not confined; special treatises laying down the spots to be pierced in various diseases, and one division of study distinguishing on the back the so-called hollow spots (more than a hundred in number)—"where the end of the nerve-fibers are found"—for the application of the needle or the moxa. A faint effort was made to introduce the Japanese needles into England and France in 1825, but although combined with electricity, it came to nothing.—Westminster Review.

A Turtle in the Sea.

Some years ago when doing a walking tour in England with a friend we left the pretty little seaside resort of D——, in Devonshire, for T——, five miles distant, also situated by the sea. As we were about leaving D——, I asked the hotel proprietor, on bidding him adieu, if he could recommend us to a nice hotel at our next halting place. He named the "King's Arms," and we should find the host a jolly fellow, and, above all, he was the only man in that part of the country who could give us a basin of real turtle soup, and cheap, too. We could scarcely believe it, and the few miles flew by in joyful anticipation of our first course. Arrived at the "King's Arms" we sought "mine host," apparently a very genial soul, but to our intense surprise on mentioning turtle soup he flew into a towering rage, said we could see his bill of fare, and if that didn't suit us we could leave it. We should have thought him quite insulting and turned our backs upon him, but were curious to know what angered him. We stayed, had a very good dinner, minus the soup, but saw no more of the proprietor during our short sojourn. Of the waiter, however, we inquired about the turtle soup and his abruptness to us. He smiled and said:

"Well, I'll tell 'e, gentlemen. Some time ago there was a large dinner comin' off here and master bought a fine turtle in London which cost him £5 about a week before the dinner, and boasted to everybody that he was goin' to 'surprise the natives.' Well, a day or so before the feast a gentleman told master the turtle would enjoy a sea bath, which would improve him for the soup, so master took him down to the beach, tied a rope on his leg, and sat down to watch his prize. Then," said our informant, "the old beggar (master) dropped off to sleep, let go the rope, and so the turtle went off to sea and so boss has been teased to death about it."—Detroit Free Press.

Sleeplessness.

Narcotics and sedatives murder sleep; the unnatural stupor is soon followed by ill effects. Simmons Liver Regulator removes the cause of restlessness and sleeplessness by regulating the bowels, by establishing good digestion and by quieting the nerves.

"I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia and loss of sleep. As soon as I feel the least nervous I take a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator, and sleep all night."

MRS. R. BRYANT, Griswoldville, Ga.

Torture in Olden Times.

There were three principal kinds of torture inflicted by the inquisition—the rope, the trough, and water and fire—writes John Hurdey. In the first the hands of the accused were tied behind his back, and then a rope was fastened to the wrists, and by this rope and a pulley he was raised into the air to a considerable height, and after being held suspended for a time he was suddenly let fall to within about a foot and a half of the ground, the sudden stop giving him a jolt that dislocated his joints and caused him to utter the most piercing cries of anguish. And this was repeated as often as the doctor of the inquisition said the man could stand it.

To intensify the horrors of the sufferings the torture was inflicted in a lurid subterranean vault in the presence of persons completely masked in black. If the victim would not yield to the rope the water torture was tried. A large piece of timber, hollowed out like a trough, had a sharp iron bar across it. The prisoner was placed in the trough, with this bar under his back, and his head and feet were fastened down by cords to the ends of the trough. The presence of the bar and the tightness of the cords caused the person to experience inexpressible agony. But this was not all. They stopped up his nostrils, and, placing a piece of linen cloth over his mouth, which he was obliged to keep open, they poured a stream of water upon it from a considerable height.

This forced the cloth deep into the throat of the sufferer and cut off his breath. When he was nearly dead his torturers rested from their inhuman work for some time to give him a chance to revive, and then went at him again, renewing the dose every time the doctor said he could stand it. The torture by fire was the most horrible. A fierce fire was built, and the prisoner's feet, anointed with lard and other penetrating substances, were held close to the flames. The pain was frightful. It often drove prisoners to confessions that were simply lies, and after the confession came the auto-da-fe, dozens of victims being led to the funeral pyres and burned in the presence of a holiday throng. The inquisition ceased to exist in France in 1789, in Germany in 1774, in Austria in 1776, and in Sweden in 1786. In 1782 forty-eight gypsies were put to the rack in Hungary on an unfounded charge of cannibalism.—New York Telegram.

The great Wabash excursion to Niagara Falls passed through this city last evening in four sections. There was a big party of tourists on board the trains and the utmost precaution was taken for their safety. Every switch was ordered locked in advance of the line of trains and section foremen on the line had orders to station their men at intervals of one mile each to patrol the track between the several trains to see that everything was safe.

Alex Heron, secretary of the state board of agriculture, thinks the outlook for the coming corn crop is not so discouraging as many fear. He thinks also that plenty of potatoes will be raised to supply the demand. He says further that he has observed that the year following a very dry summer is always marked by heavy crops, and cites the season of 1882 following the great drought of 1881 as an illustration. Anyhow, a short crop will bring big prices to the farmers.

Captain Thompson and wife, who will be remembered as having been in command of the first Salvation Army that visited this city, have been in Terre Haute for some time past and seem to have been remarkably successful in their work there. They gave their farewell services there last night and as a token of their regard the friends of Captain Thompson presented him with an elegant Knights of Pythias watch charm, of which order he is a member, while to Mrs. Thompson a gold watch was given.

A few days ago the locomotive engineers and firemen of the Wabash railway requested Receiver McNulta to grant a conference to a committee they had appointed with a view of bringing about a readjustment of schedules of wages and rules, which were considered unsatisfactory. The request was readily granted by General McNulta. The officers of the road, after a two days' conference with the men at the general office in Chicago, succeeded in making an arrangement that is alike satisfactory to the men and the company, thereby averting a strike.

The Huntington News, which all along has been condemning the Little River ditch, has this item: "Branch No. 1, of the Little River ditch, has been discovered to be much shallower than specifications, and is ordered deeper. Some persons who had been assessed concluded to hire an engineer to go over the work, and although the contract was said to be complete, and that part accepted, this investigation brought out the fact that the ditch was not complete, and resulted in further excavation. The whole scheme will have to be watched very closely. This branch No. 1 is in Allen county."

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Mr. J. A. Johnson, the clerk at the Harmon house, was married to Miss Sophia W. Ehlerding, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. F. W. E. Bicknese, on Williams street. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only a few invited friends and the happy pair will leave this evening for Decatur and from thence to Chicago, which city will be their future home.

Some weeks ago THE SENTINEL noted that in the absence of Conductor Ben Stonecifer and family their home, at No. 13 Marion street, was robbed of pretty nearly every movable article in it. In the stable of Widow Coleman, a neighbor, most of the missing property was discovered yesterday. The find included a pair of bracelets, a watch and about everything taken save $1.50 in gold. It is suspected that boys committed the theft and hid their booty in Mrs. Coleman's hay mow. A singular co-incidence is that her sons are missing.

There was a lively scene at the Wabash depot last night, when the Niagara Falls excursions went through the city. The depot was thronged with people who flocked to see the excursionists tarry here for their suppers. The big party went through in three trains, at intervals of a half an hour apart. The train numbered thirty cars in all. Ninety-seven excursionists boarded the train at this city and the entire party numbered 2,500 very genteel looking people. It was almost 11 o'clock before the last train passed through and many lingered at the depot to see the last of the merry tourists. Each locomotive had two engineers to add to the precautions noted elsewhere.

KOSSUTH, the venerable Hungarian patriot, writes: "The burden of more than eighty-four years weighs down my infirm shoulders. Under this weight the body is deadened, the soul grows blunted; life becomes a state of mere barren vegetation. Man feels then like some time-worn, moldered ruin, which no longer assorts with the world of the living.
